Russia to Lift Ban if Allies Call Conference

Tass Asserts U.S. Delegate Told Of Soviet View for Ending Blockade

LONDON, April 26 (Tuesday) (CP).—Russia said today she will lift the blockade of Berlin if the Western powers will set a date for the Big Four Foreign Ministers' meeting on Germany.

The Soviet announcement came on the heels of last night's disclosure in Frankfurt that German anti-Communist leaders and the Western military governors of Germany have reached agreement to rush formation of a separate West German state.

Russia long has opposed formation of a West German state.

In a statement datelined Moscow and distributed in London, Tass said Jakob A Malik, the Soviet delegate to the United Nations Security Council, gave Russia's view to the United States delegate, Dr. Philip C. Jessup, at the U.N. March 21.

In Washington, the United States State Department said it would have no immediate comment to make on the Soviet announcement.

The Soviet view was that the Western occupation authorities must simultaneously lift their counter-blockade of the Soviet occupation zone and the Soviet sector of Berlin, Tass said.

Tass said the Soviet and United States delegates to the U.N. started talks February 15 at the outgrowth of telegraphic interviews between Prime Minister Stalin and J. Kingsbury Smith, general European manager of The International News Service stationed in Paris. The two delegates had their last talks April 10.

The Tass statement, distributed by the Soviet monitor here, set this out as Russia's position:

1. A big four foreign ministers' council—composed of Russia, Britain, the United States and France—should meet to discuss a single currency for Berlin, "together with other questions bearing on Germany."

2. If a date can be agreed on for such a meeting, "reciprocal restrictions on communications and trade could be lifted" before the meeting.

Russia, whose occupation zone surrounds Berlin, clamped on a blockade of land and water communications into the city last June. The U.S.S.R. said the purpose was to stop currency smuggling in the wake of currency reform in the United States and British zones.

Britain and the United States started an air lift into the city. All three Western powers gradually laid on a counter-blockade of the Russian occupation zone and the Soviet sector of Berlin.

Peace Body Will War Against U.S.

PARIS, April 25 (AP).—The World Peace Congress tonight decided to establish a permanent organization on Cominform lines to fight the United States in a propaganda war.

The 2,000 delegates at a closing session voted unanimously for a resolution for creation of a world-wide committee which will carry on agitation against "actions which menace the peace" or "infringe on national independence."

For six days speakers at the Communist-sponsored meeting have declared the Atlantic Pact and the Truman doctrine menaces to peace, and the Marshall Plan a violation of the independence of the countries participating in it. United States "war-mongers" and leaders have been pictured as the chief opponents of peace, and Russia as the true friend of peace.

Move to Halt Picketing Within Esquimalt Limits

Esquimalt Municipal Council last night declared cold war on Canadian Seamen's Union members picketing ships at H.M.C.S. Naden and Dockyard.

The meeting decided to alert Esquimalt police to assure there was no picketing within municipal boundaries and to investigate the possibility of taking action against an un-named Esquimalt resident housing the pickets.

They also decided to ask naval authorities to post signs on their gates ordering that no signs be posted there.

Councillor A. C. Wurtele opened the discussion by pointing out that the picketing and their signs would be a tourist drawback to the district.

He asked what action Esquimalt police could take to remove the signs, pointing out that no billboards were allowed on municipal territory.

"They're not on municipal property. That's the unfortunate part of it," Reeve A. I. Thomas told him.

"The idea is to have the police tip them off that they are not to stop people on municipal property," Mr. Wurtele said.

"The moment they step from Government to municipal property the police are ready to grab them," Reeve Thomas declared.

"I understand an Esquimalt resident is housing these pickets," Mr. Wurtele added. "By housing them he is doing a dis-service to the municipality."

"Those houses can be investigated in regard to apartment-house and boarding-house regulations," Reeve Thomas assured him.

Traffic Lines To Be Painted

Repainting of traffic lines on the Island Highway will start as soon as the weather is settled, it was learned yesterday.

Preparatory spotting of the Provincially-maintained Gorge and East Saanich Roads already has been started. Repainting of the entire Highland Highway is expected before the Summer.

The double and broken white lines, instituted about two years ago, have become barely visible because of wear and weather.

Vessels Back Thursday From Battle Exercises

Thee Esquimalt-based warships of the Royal Canadian Navy will return to the naval base Thursday as they complete a lengthy training cruise to southern waters which commenced last January 28.

The ships are the cruiser H.M.C.S. Ontario, senior vessel of the West Coast fleet, commanded by Capt. J. C. Hibbard, D.S.C. and Bar, R.C.N. the destroyer H.M.C.S. Athabaskan, commanded by Cmdr. M. A. Medland, R.C.N., and the frigate H.M.C.S. Antigonish, commanded by Lieut.-Cmdr. W. S. T. McCully, R.C.N.

Naval officials, announcing the return date, said yesterday the time of arrival will be known shortly. It is expected the ships will reach the base sometime in the morning.

The destroyer H.M.C.S. Crescent, under the command of Lieut.-Cmdr. D. W. Groos, R.C.N., was removed from the training cruise by a matter of hours before the fleet was set to sail. She was directed to the Far East, and for the past month or more has been stationed at Shanghai. No word has been received in connection with her departure from the Far East.

EXERCISES HELD

While on the training cruise the three warships participated in exercises with United States ships and units from the R.C.N. base at Halifax, including the aircraft carrier Magnificent. While in waters of the West Indies, the ships exercised with units of the Royal Navy's West Indies Squadron.

Crowds "Meet" Princess Marguerite

A CROWD of between 12,000 and 15,000 persons boarded and inspected the C.P.R.'s new Ss. Princess Marguerite throughout Sunday afternoon. A small section of the crowd is seen above on the Inner Harbor dock where the new vessel was moored. C.P.R. officials expressed amazement at the interest taken by the general public in the ship. Standing three and four abreast, the crowd formed a line-up which at times was equivalent to five or six city blocks. The Marguerite was open to the public in Vancouver yesterday, and today will be open to residents of Nanaimo. Tomorrow she will be in Seattle for a similar "open house." She will start service in the "triangle run" Thursday morning from Seattle, and that afternoon will leave this port for Vancouver.

Plan to Build 400 New Houses In Belmont Area for Navy's Use

Construction of more than 400 houses in the Belmont district for naval personnel is being planned by Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation, A. A. Chauvin, branch manager here, said yesterday.

"Plans are in the early stages and everything depends on how much suitable property can be obtained. However, it is hoped more than 400 units can be erected," stated Mr. Chauvin.

The property is bounded by Wilfert and Belmont Roads and its frontage is Esquimalt Harbor. The area is to the rear of the old Colwood army camp, and is Department of National Defence property. The old Colwood race track is in the same area.

PLAN CONFERENCE

Mr. Chauvin and J. Allan Jones, British Columbia regional supervisor of C.M.H.C., will confer today with an Ottawa naval official. It is expected a definite plan will be formulated at the meeting.

Officials are experiencing difficulty in placing houses because of a danger area from the naval magazine. A large area will be ruled out for house construction because of the magazine's presence.

Mr. Chauvin stressed that plans may be changed at short notice. He declined to give details of the scheme because of the amount of planning still to do.

TAX STAND UNCHANGED

Meanwhile, Saanich Council still has not changed its stand on tax concessions to C.M.H.C., which wants to build 152 low-rental houses on the old Lansdowne airfield. C.M.H.C. wants a five-year tax stabilization period, but Saanich won't allow it. If the council doesn't change its policy, the houses may be lost.

The city has definitely contracted for an additional 100 homes through C.M.H.C.

Revenue Up In Saanich, Rate Is Safe

A reduced tentative mill rate was struck by Saanich Council last night, but all indications were that the 1948 rate would be maintained and the surplus spent on roads.

For School District No. 61 the rate was reduced from 38.5 to 35.5 mills, and District 63 from 41.3 to 37.5 mills. The general rate was reduced from 21 to 13.4 mills. In 1948, the school rate in District 61 was 17.5 mills, compared with 22.1 mills this year. District 63 last year was 20.3 mills, compared with 24.1 this year.

ESTIMATE YIELD

The general tax, based on 92 per cent of collections, has been estimated to produce $165,840; District 61 school rate, $216,729, and District 63 school rate, $61,923. Last year, 93 per cent collections were estimated.

Estimated yield and expenditures for 1949 are $1,097,530, compared with actual 1948 receipts of $991,065, and expenditures of $1,015,255. This year's taxable assessment based on 55 per cent on improvements is $13,452,378.

Council will hold another special meeting soon to complete work on the estimates. Several councillors and Reeve E. C. Warern have stated they are opposed to reducing the mill rate this year because of the large amount of road work required. It is expected the reductions shown

Says Federal Vote Slated for June 27

St. Laurent Says Parliament To Be Dissolved at Week-End

OTTAWA, April 25 (CP).—Prime Minister St. Laurent tonight told The Canadian Press—with as much force as he could without overstepping the bounds of official discretion—that the general election date is to be Monday, June 27.

PRIME MINISTER ST. LAURENT

Asked if he could indicate a definite date for the contest, he told a Canadian Press reporter,

"Here is the situation, we want an election as early as possible and June 27 is the earliest possible date."

A few minutes earlier, he had told the Commons that Parliament will be dissolved at the end of this week.

Pressed by Opposition members for the closely-guarded election date, the Prime Minister told the House it would be improper for him to give the date now.

But, he added, members could see that under the Election Act it would be "possible" to hold the balloting June 27.

An uproar of cheers from all sectors of the House greeted his announcement of an early election, and immediately the leaders of all the Opposition parties arose and said they welcomed the step.

Reaction from the major Opposition groups:

Gordon Graydon, acting Progressive Conservative leader, declared members of his party were "gleeful" and said the Government, facing a want-of-confidence vote in the House, has been "chased to the people." The non-confidence motion is on the budget.

M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. leader, said the people of all Canada—including Newfoundland—have the right to elected representatives. He hoped they would "choose wisely, progressively and well."

Solon Low, Social Credit leader, said he had hoped Parliament would complete its sessional business before the calling of an election, but he nevertheless welcomed the reference to the people.

Mr. St. Laurent recalled that the life of the present Parliament does not expire until next year—August, 1950—but he said there were many reasons for an election to be held as soon as possible.

"In the first place, there has been a change in the leadership of the Government since the general election of 1945 and it has always been my view that the people should have the earliest practicable opportunity to pronounce upon that change," said Mr. St. Laurent.

Officials in the chief electoral office said Mr. St. Laurent's announcement made it possible for him to have an election on June 27. The dissolution announcement was a signal for the returning officers to start work immediately.

Under the Election Act, 49 days' notice of the election date is required. An announcement of the date Saturday would leave 59 days in which to prepare for the polling.

U.S. Ship Quits Shanghai

SHANGHAI, April 26 (Tuesday) (CP).—Vice-Admiral Oscar Badger's flagship quit Shanghai today, beginning the withdrawal of United States heavy fleet units to avoid American involvement in China's civil war.

The Western Pacific commander's flagship, the U.S.S. Eldorado, pulled out of its anchorage on "Battleship Row" in the Whangpoo River at 11 a.m. The ship moved toward a safer anchorage in the Yangtze estuary.

The shell-spattered British cruiser London, hit by Communist shore batteries on the Yangtze last week, and the British destroyer Constance followed the lead of the American ships.

OUT IN ESTUARY

They pulled out to Woosung at the mouth of the big river, but the sloop Black Swan, also hit as she accompanied the London, remained at her berth off the former French bund.

The Eldorado was scheduled to be followed immediately by the troopship Chilton, which carries one battalion of marines.

The move came as Chinese Communist forces sloshed through the rain about ten miles northwest of here, but secrecy covered their major manoeuvre aimed at trapping 300,000 Government troops against the sea south of this city.

Earlier, 15,000 American-trained, American-equipped Chinese Government reinforcements were reported to have arrived in this threatened city from Formosa.

ACKNOWLEDGE GAINS

The garrison's 9 p.m. announcement, first of a promised three a day through the official Central News Agency, acknowledged that Red troops had infiltrated to Nanhsiang, ten miles northwest of Shanghai.

It denied widespread reports that the Reds had captured Kashing, 53 miles by air and 62 by rail southwest of Shanghai.

Kashing is the key to the trap operation. It is on the Grand Canal and is the junction of the Shanghai-Hangchow Railway and of a line that runs miles north to intersect the Shanghai-Nanking Railway at Soochow (Wuhsien).

The Shanghai command declared that trains through Kashing to and from Hangchow are still operating.

FLEET BOOSTED

Meanwhile, in London the Admiralty announced tonight that the 8,000-ton cruiser Jamaica has been ordered to the Far East from Bermuda.

The announcement came after official sources said Britain is reinforcing her fleet in Chinese waters, but intends to avoid any new clash with advancing Communist armies.

These sources said two aircraft carriers and a group of submarines will be sent to Hongkong to reinforce the two cruisers, eight destroyers and four sloops already stationed at that British Crown colony.

The Admiralty said the Jamaica, commanded by Capt. P. A. Ballance, will steam to the Far East "at her best speed consistent with endurance." It added the exact sailing time is not known.

Declares City, Oak Bay Charged $135,000 Extra

Mayor Percy E. George, appearing yesterday before a board of arbitration, asked the Greater Victoria School Board to slice $60,000 from its 1949 ordinary estimates to prevent a spiraling mill rate.

He said the city was faced with several extraordinary and unforeseen expenditures this year which it would not have to shoulder next year.

Councillor F. A. Gibbs of Oak Bay told the arbitration board Oak Bay carried too great a share of expenses of the Greater Victoria School District.

Referring to 1949 school estimates, he declared Victoria had been overcharged $100,000 and Oak Bay, $35,000.

"AFTER THREE YEARS . . ."

"Prior to the amalgamation of School District No. 61, we were led to believe that the implementation of the Cameron Report would equalize the cost of education and at the same time achieve greater efficiency with greater economy," he stated. "After three years' trial we find expenditures increasing annually. Equalization does not exist for School District No. 61."

City Comptroller-Treasurer D. A. Macdonald told arbitrators the Victoria mill rate could show a 10.3325-mill increase in 1949.

"I'm almost terrified by the thought of the possible effect on our taxpayers of an increase of that magnitude," declared Mr. Macdonald.

Mayor George stated he based his entire submission on the taxpayers' ability to pay increased school costs, declaring he did not desire "in the slightest degree" to curtail education of children in the district.

SUGGESTS SLICING

He advised that it was his opinion the school bulget as it stood would work "quite a hardship" on taxpayers.

In answer to questions, the mayor declared that if the school board could shrink its 1949 budget the city would be in a better position to pay for necessary items next year since it would not be faced by such extraordinary expenditures as repairs to the Dallas Road sea wall and retroactive pay increases to police and city employees.

Mayor George suggested the board

Shanghai Almost Reached by Chinese Communists

—Central Press Canadian.

Shanghai Garrison Command acknowledged last night that the Red troops had infiltrated to within ten miles northwest of the city. Yesterday the flagship of the United States Western Pacific Command quit its Shanghai anchorage and moved towards a safer spot in the Yangtze estuary. A troopship of marines is slated to follow. Canadian and United States Consuls have warned their nationals to leave Shanghai as soon as possible. Space on the battleship U.S.S. Eldorado was offered United States citizens but there was no large response from the 2,500 Americans in Shanghai. The 250 Canadians were told that transportation facilities might not be available in the near future. Photo above shows business section of the teeming port.

R.C.A.F. to Photograph Area in Hunt for Plane

OTTAWA, April 25 (CP).—For the first time in its peacetime history the R.C.A.F. has decided to employ air photography in an elaborate effort to trace the whereabouts of an R.C.A.F. aircraft with seven men aboard, missing since Thursday.

Four service aircraft—two Dakotas and two Lancasters—will take off from suburban Rockcliffe air station at dawn tomorrow to photograph from the air a vertical strip, covering some 7,200 square miles, and stretching from Presque Isle, Me., to Chatham, N.B.

Thirty R.C.A.F. men and officers will be employed in the photography job, while another ten or more men will develop and print the film at Rockcliffe.

The entire job is expected to be completed in one day, weather permitting.

Meanwhile, some 25 R.C.A.F., private and American planes will continue the search between Presque Isle and Chatham for a trace of the aircraft that disappeared on a routine flight from Ottawa to Chatham.

The missing aircraft—a Beechcraft Expediter—was last reported over Presque Isle Thursday morning.

To carry out the operation the four photo aircraft will cover the area at about 9,500 feet and make a total of 33 runs over strips allotted to them.

Altogether, the area to be photographed will be 80 miles wide and 120 miles long.

If the operation proves successful in finding the missing men and aircraft, it is expected to become part of future search operations.

Fears Increase in Tax Rate Would See Property Reversion

alice its estimate of $163,740 for upkeep of grounds and buildings, repairs and replacements by some $60,000.

"The rise in education costs in excess of 59.2 per cent over 1939 is not to our taxpayers, for the rise tends to suggest that Oak Bay is being overcharged, whereas we were promised economy," stated Councillor Gibbs.

He suggested educational projects may have been pushed to exceed requirements so that costs outweighed advantages.

PER CAPITA COST

"It should be stated that any additional contribution which the Provincial Government may be persuaded to make to the school districts will reduce the burden to the taxpayers," asserted Councillor Gibbs. "Whether or not such a contribution becomes a reality, it is most essential that distribution of cost within the area of School District No. 61 be based upon a per capita basis . . . if the equalization of school cost is to be achieved within this school district."

Councillor Gibbs questioned the totals and need of a number of items contained in the board's budget. He insisted estimates for upkeep of grounds and buildings, repairs and replacements should be cut by 50 per cent.

Robert H. Smith, school board engineer, said these estimates had already been pared from $200,000 to $163,000, "the irreducible minimum."

FEARS REVERSION

Mr. Macdonald told the board of arbitration he feared that if the city was not able to prevent a ten-mill increase in the tax rate, taxes would be set beyond the ability of a great many taxpayers to pay, resulting in reversion of property and a greater burden on the remaining taxpayers.

Referring to items of increased costs, which council must pay, Mr. Macdonald noted they totaled $543,500. He said 1949 increases in revenue over 1948 figures totaled $310,000, leaving $233,500 to be found through taxation.

Mr. Macdonald said the 1949 estimated school budget of $844,821.17 was $209,111.77 greater than the 1948 school budget of $635,710—an increase of 3.9594 mills.

"STAGGERING" TOTAL

The "staggering" total increase of 10.3325 mills was reached by adding to the increased school budget 6.3731 mills to cover general increases in the city's budget, he advised.

He noted that the entire increase in salaries recently awarded teachers fell on the shoulders of the school board while the province took no share.

Quoting from a letter written Mayor Percy George by Education Minister W. T. Straith, W. H. M. Haldane, counsel for the board, said it was estimated the city would receive $54,000 more from the sales tax than Mr. Macdonald had budgeted for.

Members of the board of arbitration include R. D. Harvey, chairman; Walter Walker, representative of the municipalities; F. A. Willis, representative of the school board.

Hearings of the board are expected to conclude today.

Braves Fire In Saving Small Sons

YORKTON, Sask., April 25 (CP).—A Yorton district mother is in hospital here tonight with badly cut arms after rescuing her two small sons from a fire which destroyed their farm home today.

Mrs. Joe Sinair, surrounded by flames, lowered the boys, aged six and 11, to safety before effecting her own escape. Mr. Sinair left the blazing house unharmed.

The building was burned to the ground before neighbors and volunteer firefighters from the nearby village of Springside arrived on the scene. The family saved nothing.

Villagers are organizing a relief fund for the Sinairs. A three-room house has been offered them and is expected to be moved to their farm.

Expect Rate For Saanich To Be Same

in last night's first estimates draft will not be present when the final draft is prepared.

Estimated expenditures for 1949 for the Saanich Fire Department is $82,136, compared with $69,524 spent last year. Council decided to lay over this matter till another meeting. Police department costs will be $54,358, compared with $48,069 in 1948.

ROAD APPROPRIATION

The ward road appropriation is increased from $12,000 to $14,000 in the new estimate, the entire works department estimate being increased considerably over last year.

Social welfare costs are estimated to be up from $61,228 to $70,000; office administration up from $20,000 to $25,000; tax and licence collection expenses up about $1,500 to $5,000; Saanich Health Centre maintenance down to $1,000 from $2,064, and $5,000 allocated for an addition; superannuation costs up from $8,404 to $9,000; garbage collection up from $18,492 to $19,000; water purchases from $23,000 to $33,000, and maintenance and operation up from $76,000 to $80,000.

SCHOOL COSTS

District 61 school costs zoomed up to $235,479 from $169,631, and District 61 to $73,403 from $57,717.

On the revenue side, waterfront taxes increased from $22,259 to $23,250; library fees from $11,437 to $11,625; garbage collection rate from $16,862 to $17,670; motor vehicle licence grants from the Provincial Government, estimated for $38,000 last year, produced $44,358 and is estimated for $45,000 in 1949.

Sum of $150,000 is expected from the sales tax compared with $59,000 last year.

Calgary Group Wins Praise Of Adjudicator

TORONTO, April 25 (CP).—A hard-working theatrical group from Western Canada tonight pulled off what Adjudicator Philip Hope-Wallace described as a "magnificently rewarding" performance of Henrik Ibsen's "Hedda Gabler."

The four-act psychological drama, produced by Workshop 14 of Calgary, was the first entry in the 1949 Dominion Drama Festival. Some 1,500 persons packed the Royal Alexandra Theatre in downtown Toronto for the premiere this week of plays which was officially opened by Ontario's Lieutenant-Governor, Ray Lawson.

"GALLANT EFFORT"

Adjudicator Hope-Wallace described the Western group's performance as "extraordinarily well done," and a "very gallant effort."

At the same time, he said the Ibsen work was "one of the most difficult plays in the world to perform." He praised the Workshop players for their courage in choosing it.

Mr. Hope-Wallace said that Doreen Richardson, who played Hedda, had succeeded in getting the "quintessence of her part."

The success of the production depended on other members of the cast building up to Hedda Gabler. Mr. Hope-Wallace said through their "unselfishness" they had achieved this.

Knotty India Problem Being Met at Parley

LONDON, April 25 (CP).—Commonwealth delegates who met twice today have reached agreement on most points before them, it was reliably learned late tonight.

It was understood that Canada's delegate, L. B. Pearson, External Affairs Minister, and his colleagues had made "very good" progress toward unravelling the knotty problem of India's constitutional future.

They are in full agreement, "subject to two or three quite important points still to be straightened out," The Canadian Press learned.

PLAN BRIEF DOCUMENT

The decisions reached at the conference—which continues tomorrow morning—will probably be embodied in a brief document which will not be issued until after the talks are complete, it was learned from a source close to the conference.

After a two-hour afternoon session the delegates reassembled at No. 10 Downing Street, official residence of British Prime Ministers, for an unscheduled evening meeting.

It was learned there will be another plenary session at 11 a.m. tomorrow.

Informants remained confident that a satisfactory conclusion would be reached. They added that delegates were down to their real work—obtaining a method whereby the Crown would be retained as the symbol of the Commonwealth without jeopardizing India's republican aspirations.

Freighter's Crew Split Over Union Allegiance

By The Canadian Press

The 25-man crew of the freighter Canadian Conqueror, arriving in Montread, on the 26th day of the Canadian Seamen's Union (T.L.C.) strike, split over union allegiance when the ship arrived Monday.

A spokesman for Canadian National Steamships, owners of the vessel, said ten members had deserted the left-wing C.S.U. for the rival Seafarers' International Union (A.F.L.). Ten others were said to have voted; at a meeting of the crew, to remain with the C.S.U. They left the ship.

The remainder, negro C.S.U. members, requested they be returned to the British West Indies, their home.

Union spokesmen claimed that only seven crew members voted to join the S.I.U.

APPEAR IN COURT

In Montreal courts, ten C.S.U. members, charged with loitering and illegal picketing, were ordered to pay costs. Seven others were acquitted.

Tugboat crews, striking in sympathy with the C.S.U., reported back to work, on orders from C.S.U. President Harry Davis in Montreal, to handle the 45,000-ton line Aquitania on her arrival. Other ships have been docked by their masters. An exception was made by the union, on Government request, in the case of the big liner carrying 1,800 passengers.

CREW PUT ABOARD

On the other side of the world, in Sydney, Australia, a special S.I.U. crew of 21 arrived at Brisbane by air to man the Canadian freighter Triberg, tied up since April 4. The Triberg sailed later in the day.

In London 82 striking C.S.U. crew members of the Canadian Pacific steamship Beaverbrae were ordered to leave the vessel, but refused, and company officials were reported considering applying for a court injunction to force them ashore.

Oak Bay to Show Ratepayers Plan for Willows Fair Grounds

Oak Bay ratepayers will see what is planned for the old Willows fairgrounds when they receive their tax notices for 1949.

Reeve Robert A. Wootton said yesterday all property holders will be sent a plan showing the proposed subdivision. A description will be contained in the pamphlet, he said.

"Expressions of opinion will be invited. The council hopes the proposed plan meets with the approval of all," stated Reeve Wootton.

Oak Bay purchased the Willows property from S. W. Randall, Vancouver racing mogul, for $120,000. The purchase was approved by the ratepapers in the December elections.

HURT IN SPILL

William Jones, 56, 3320 Cook Street, was taken to Royal Jubilee Hospital yesterday morning after a spill from his motorcycle on Quadra Street near Cloverdale Avenue, according to Saanich police.

Jones is suffering from cuts to his chin and forehead, and was in a semi-conscious condition after the accident. Police believe the machine's front wheel collapsed, throwing Jones to the street.

His condition last night was reported as good.

BLAME BOYS

City police are on the lookout for some small boys believed to have started a fire in the furnace-room of the United Church at Fairfield Road and Moss Street on Saturday.

The fire, which caused about $20 damage to an extension ladder and broom closet, was started by someone throwing matches through a broken window, police reported.

OPPOSE NURSING HOME

A petition was received at City Hall yesterday bearing the names of 56 property-owners living in the neighborhood of 95 Wellington Avenue, opposing an application for permission to operate a nursing home at the address.

"The establishment of the proposed institution will materially depreciate the value of all homes adjacent thereto and cannot be said to enhance a neighborhood of otherwise good-class residences," it was stated in a covering letter signed by C. M. Rose, 1218 Faithful Street.

PLAN MEDICAL CLINIC

It was stated the owners had entered into agreement to sell the property to Dr. John D. Stenstrom, subject to the premises being rezoned to permit erection of such a clinic.

The rezoning application has already been placed in the hands of the Town Planning Commission for consideration.

It took a woman driver to do it.

According to police, the lady was taking her road test before getting her driver's licence.

Maybe the B.C. Police officer sitting beside her watching every movement made her nervous.

Before getting a licence she, no doubt, will be required to do a little more practising.

LOGANBERRIES HIT

Vancouver Island's loganberry crop may only be 50 per cent of normal this year because of Winter injury, Department of Agriculture officials predicted yesterday.

An average crop is anticipated for other small fruits and tree fruits.

Officials said the season is ten days to two weeks behind the average for the Island as a whole.

A heavy crop of strawberries is expected in all areas.

Tree fruits, on the whole, Wintered well, with present conditions indicating a "satisfactory" crop of apples.

First Oleo Quickly Snapped Up

—Colonist Photo.

Margarine made its debut to Victoria stores yesterday morning, and supply was practically exhausted well before noon. One downtown department store sold 720 pounds in less than two hours. Additional shipments are due here within day or two. In above photograph, Miss Dorinda Floyd is seen with pound package of one or two brands sold and carton of other. Butter substitute is ivory colored, and with each pound is small packet of colored powder for coloring purposes.

First Supply of Oleo Quickly Sold Out Here

Yesterday was "margarine day" for hundreds of Victoria housewives.

The butter substitute made its first appearance in city stores yesterday morning, and selling at 40 cents a pound—22 cents less than a pound of butter—supplies did not last long.

A large downtown department store sold 720 pounds within two hours. Hunderds of people came too late, but were assured there would be another shipment in within a few days.

John Hall, manager at the local branch of Canada Packers Ltd., said "we could have sold ten times as much . . . if it had been possible to get it." His firm is the only one in British Columbia which makes margarine at the present time."

There was a limited amount of an Eastern Canada brand available early yesterday morning. It sold for the same price.

Sold in one pound packages, the margarine is ivory in color, and with each pound there is a small cellophane packet containing an orange colored powder to be used for coloring purppses.

It could not be learned how many pounds of margarine were brought to this city in the first shipment.

Department store clerk Miss Dorinda Floyd, behind the margarine counter, said there had been no real rush for the butter substitute, but that it sold rapidly. A majority of the customers were men. She said there had been no marked decrease in the sale of the more expensive butter.

Many women shoppers explained they intended using the margarine for cooking purposes.

The two brands available were labeled "Margene" and "Nucoa."

On the "Nucoa" packages was printed a list of ingredients: vegetable oils, 80 per cent; skim milk, not over 16.4 per cent; salt, 3 per cent; Lecithin, 2 per cent; Vitamin A, Sodium Benzoate, 1 per cent.

Each pound, the label claimed, contained 3,525 I.U. Vitamin A per hundred grams, or 16,000 I.U. Vitamin A.

Purchasing margarine was nothing new to many of yesterday morning's customers, many of whom have come here from England. Several persons, queried after having tasted the butter substitute, claimed they could tell no difference between it and butter.

Tax Money Proposal Irks Council

Esquimalt Council last night indignantly received and filed a letter from the Parent-Teacher Association asking the municipality to apply the 3 per cent sales tax revenue to education.

"They're trying to tell us how to run our business," Reeve A. I. Thom-[illegible] had passed the letter [illegible] ily voted to file the letter without action, he added: "We made short work of that."

REQUEST REFUSED

The council also turned down a request for financial help from the St. John Ambulance Association.

They turned over to the parks committee an application from the Senior "B" Softball League asking permission to play Monday, Wednesday and Friday nights at Bullen Park.

The meeting voted to endorse a letter from Victoria City on holding money by-laws for the Topaz Junior High School and the View Royal Elementary School and planned to meet with them later. Esquimalt's share would be $9,075.

Public hearing for a zoning by-law, given first reading, will be held in the Municipal Hall, May 9, at 7 p.m.

Standard Furniture Plans Cooking School For Spring Brides

There's news of interest for the Spring bride and the bride-to-be at The Standard Furniture. Commencing Monday, May 2, and continuing each Monday in May, a special Brides' Cooking School has been arranged. With the fact in mind that the bride and the prospective bride's time is fully occupied, the time has been set at 7:30 to 9 p.m. and it will be held on the lower main floor of the Standard.

An unusually complete program has been arranged, designed for the instruction and interest of the new homemaker. On opening night there will be two-color and sound movies shown, entitled "It Happened in the Kitchen" and "Five Days in the Cooler." The course includes demonstrations and talks on meal planning, use of refrigeration and appliances, table setting and service. Budget buying will also be largely dealt with.

The Brides' School will be under the direction of Miss Mann, Home Ecenomist of the B.C. Electric, and advance interest indicates a large attendance. As seating and capacity is naturally limited, those who plan to attend the classes are urged to register their names with the Standard Hostess in the store as early as possible. ***

Greater Traffic Safety Pushed for Victoria

One more step in the program to make Victoria the safest city in Canada for drivers and pedestrians alike was taken last night.

A motion was passed by the Greater Victoria Traffic Safety Council, at a meeting in the Empress Hotel, that they adopt bylaws similar to those used by the Vancouver Traffic and Safety Council.

The organization is now in a position to go ahead and incorporate under the Societies Act.

GRANT MEMBERSHIP

The Business and Professional Women's Club, the student body of the Victoria High School, and F. H. Brice, representing the Trades and Labor Council, were granted membership in the council by motion.

Objective of the oganization primarily was to create safer driving in the Greater Victoria area, and to set up controls to give the general public the opportunity for safer driving.

Sgt. Brooke Douglass, traffic division officer in the city police department, explained a program of proposed work of his department.

He explained work that the police department was doing for traffic signs at intersections, aimed at better traffic control.

MUCH CONFUSION

The regulation has long been a source of much confusion to motorists and pedestrians alike, the meeting was told.

"There are three things which the motorist must do before making a right hand turn against a red light," Sgt. Douglass explained.

"The motorist must stop, signal a right turn, and then, if no traffic is proceeding on the green light in the opposite direction, and if the turning area is clear, he may execute the turn."

He pointed out the danger of motorists not observing the precautions.

DOGS BRING SUMMONSES

Oak Bay ratepayers' complaints to the council about wandering dogs have resulted in police action.

Six dog owners have been issued summonses to appear in police court Friday on charges of allowing their dogs to wander at large.

Cominform in Business at Its New Stand

ANY lingering doubt that the Cominform, successor to the Comintern, was back in business at its new stand, Bulgaria, has been dissolved for most countries outside the Iron Curtain this Spring by a combination of events which could by no means have been accidental. "Peace Congresses" at New York and Paris, marine strikes simultaneously on three continents, fellow-traveler condemnation of the North Atlantic Pact, and the flaming civil war in China all point in the same direction. Evidences of the Communist party-line were everywhere, the main effort being to barrack the flow of emergency goods to Europe and to keep production in the Western nations off balance.

What was said in the "peace offensive" pageantry at New York and Paris was foolish enough from any standpoint, but that is not the point. There was evidence that there was manufactured material, and that the Cominform is aiming at least at mass production in propaganda outside the Iron Curtain. The split in the C.I.O. over the North Atlantic Pact, with a very evident waiting on the part of Communist adherents for instruction from the Cominform, has been a still more recent example of the same thing. Obviously not all people on this continent are free agents; some are taking their time and their words from the Communist International headquarters in Bulgaria.

An analogy can be traced with the period immediately before the World War, and later until Russia was attacked by Germany. During those few years every possible effort was made by the Communists and their fellow-travelers to impede the flow of lumber, metals and other basic materials across the Atlantic to Europe, with repercussions which Canadians well remember. Labor on this continent is making no mistake when it segregates these alien-minded groups with their strangely-divided loyalties, and removes the mischief-makers from office before more harm is done. Meanwhile, no doubt, the "peace offensive" will go on.

Increase in Civic Running Costs Inevitable

WHEN a city doubles in size it is inevitable that the costs of running it will rise in proportion to the increased needs of the community. That is the situation facing Victoria today, and the crux of the problem of civic officials in preparing the next municipal budget. Nobody likes higher taxes, but there comes a time when they cannot be avoided. A boost in the mill rate is certain, in order to meet current operating expenses, let alone the cost of new and necessary improvements.

Inflation has added to the expense of civic government, which a city as such can no more escape than the citizens who comprise it. Wage increases, extra school costs, large repairs and needed public works—all these and more force the mill rate upward. On the other hand revenues, while increasing, do not keep pace with expenditures. The dilemma is aggravated also by the policy of previous administrations which for election purposes pegged the mill rate year after year, letting the city run down in consequence.

That merely deferred the day of reckoning, which has now arrived. This is not to concede a blank cheque to the City Council, nevertheless, in fixing the 1949 mill rate. The necessity of increasing the tax levy is conceded, but there is still use for the pruning knife to pare needless duplication or waste. Citizens are probably resigned to a forthcoming boost in rates, but they will expect this to be geared to necessity and a just return.

Sister Dominions Accept New Ties

NEW evidence of the strengthening of bonds between the Commonwealth of Australia and the Dominion of New Zealand is contained in the completion of a reciprocal agreement covering social service benefits. Although separated by a distance approximately half the width of the North Atlantic, the two now will act as one so far as freedom of individual movement is concerned.

The agreement replaces a less generous arrangement in force since 1943, embracing old-age, widows' and invalid pensions, child endowment and unemployment and sickness benefits. For purposes of all these benefits it allows residence in one country to count as residence in the other; with the exception, however, that an Australian taking up residence in New Zealand, where the qualifying age for the old-age pension is 60 years, will not receive the pension until the Australian qualification of 65 years is reached. This would appear to be a necessary precaution against a general exodus of Australians to New Zealand after their sixtieth birthdays.

The new reciprocity is to extend also to those in receipt of social benefits who go from one country to the other for temporary residence. For them there will be no loss of qualification or break in payments; they will continue to receive allowances from their home countries, paid on an agency basis by the country they visit.

The signing of such an agreement between two nations may seem of small consequence in a world concerned over weightier problems. Nevertheless it is encouraging as a piece of good-neighbor policy and as a manifestation of the "family" idea on which the British Commonwealth is founded.

PENSIONABLE AGE

Sir,—Recent pronouncements of Mr. St. Laurent regarding old-age pensions are extremely disappointing as there is no suggestion of a reduction of the age of eligibility from 70. In Britain it is — and was under Conservative Government — 65, and is 60 in the case of women. In practically all countries the age is 65 or lower, and in Canada, Dominion Government employees are dismissed at that age.

A complete social security plan is a reform long overdue in this country.

TIMBER GOING?

Sir,—It ill becomes the Ministry of Lands and Forests to pay for advertising spaces adjuring the people to "Prevent Forest Fires and Preserve Your Heritage" when the Province itself is blandly allowing the wholesale and unnecessary destruction of the young growing forest by the iniquitous high-lead logging system.

All can see for themselves the bleak and barren areas that once were forest, destroyed for ever by the present methods of logging, which is more destructive than forest fire, because fire may skip the young green trees, the loggers leave nothing.

Experts have warned us that at the present mad rate there will be no more trees to cut in fifty years. The Government must know this and they could halt the destruction by prohibiting anything but strict selective logging. So why don't they?

CRUELTY TO ANIMALS

Sir,—I read with horror and disgust of the Maritime man who was fined $5 for inhuman treatment of a horse. The offence, "firing a pool of gasoline under a fallen horse."

Such loathsome creatures as this man should be jailed and forbidden to keep an animal again. I would point out that the higher the civilization of a country, the more humane is the treatment of its dumb animals. Let us all see to it, then, that we support the activities of the S.P.C.A. and report all and every case of ill-treatment and press for adequate punishment for fiends who take a delight in causing suffering to defenceless dumb creatures.

THE PILGRIMS' INN

Sir,—In The Daily Colonist dated January 16, it is stated that the Pilgrims' Inn still stands at Canterbury. This is not so. The Pilgrims' Inn, now George Hotel, is in Glastonbury, Somerset. Also (I have looked it up), there is no George Hotel at Canterbury. I was born in Glastonbury, and my brother was employed in this hotel about 30 years, prior to 1939.

Visitors from all parts of the world have paid a visit to the hotel. Perhaps some of your readers will remember him, as I know he did everything he could to be informative for their benefit.

From "Penseroso"

And, missing thee, I walk unseen
On the dry smooth-shaven green
To behold the wandering moon,
Riding near her highest noon,
Like one that had been led astray
Through the heaven's wide pathless way,
And oft, as if her head she bowed,
Stooping through a fleecy cloud.
Oft, on a plat of rising ground,
I hear the far-off curfew sound,
Over some wide-watered shore,
Swinging slow with sullen roar;
Or, if the air will not permit,
Some still removed place will fit,
Where glowing embers through the room
Teach light to counterfeit a gloom,
Far from all resort of mirth,
Save the cricket on the hearth,
Or the bellman's drowsy charm
To bless the doors from nightly harm.

Thinking Aloud

". . . of shoes—and ships—and sealing wax—of cabbages and kings."

By TOM TAYLOR

I'M always intrigued when people —in mass—are blamed for something, as for instance the failure of the United Nations. Because I think that viewpoint is fallacious.

True enough it is that people make up the world and if human nature were different everything could be nice, sweet and happy. But that's academic, and too abstract for the realities of life.

And it's reality that means anything when you come to talk about people. It doesn't help to pretend they're different from what they are—or what they must do to live as a community, as a province, as a nation, or as a community of nations.

It's the machinery they must employ for these purposes that is all important.

I'm inclined to think that Lincoln's rhetoric about "government for the people by the people" is too often misapplied. The Gettysburg thesis is only partly true because it is not wholly practicable.

No people can govern themselves—in mass. They have to have a small number of individuals handling the details. Someone or some group has to be delegated to run the show, whether it be a P.-T.A. slate of officers, an aldermanic board or a council of state.

THE REINS OF POWER

Even in a Western democracy, where Lincoln's precept has found its fullest expression and where these delegates are chosen instead of thrust upon people, the same holds good.

It doesn't matter whether it's a Liberal, Conservative, Socialist or Social Credit administration that may be in power. The fact remains that it is a small group of individuals that actually controls the reins of power.

There is no other way of running multiple human affairs.

As a result, for good or ill, people in mass are at the mercy of their own governors.

In a democracy this may be offset, diluted or rendered more palatable by recurring elections. In between elections public opinion is not without influence, and can bring pressure to bear this way or that upon some given proposition, but only to a degree.

Beyond that point, people—in the mass—must trust to luck.

When the opportunity comes, of course, they can replace their representatives if they're displeased, but that's all. By and large they have to grin and bear the mistakes of those they choose to act for them.

That's in a democracy. How much more blameless for things that go wrong, then, are masses of people who live under dictatorship. They have no choice whatsoever, and must acquiesce in the course of events willy-nilly.

NOT TO BLAME

The United Nations is no different in these respects from the Victoria City Council, except that Victorians can reach aldermen more easily than they can delegates at Lake Success.

A thousand million people can't very well sit in at the General Assembly, even if it's their assembly and their hopes and fears that are being bandied about. The practicalities don't permit.

So, then, we have a group of men who perforce must make the decisions for the nations they represent. They haven't been making good decisions, or rather they haven't been making decisions, but I don't think the people —in mass—are to be blamed for that.

It must be obvious to all delegates at the United Nations, no matter on what side of the curtain they sit, that their own peoples don't want any more war, for example; that if it were possible for people in mass to speak they would vote overwhelmingly for peace and the successful operation of the world organization.

It's not possible for this to happen, and that's why the United Nations has failed so far. People—in the mass—are not to blame.

Lay the root of the trouble where you will — to jealousies, ambitions, oligarchies and the rest. But don't blame the whole human race. The simple, day-to-day machinery by which they must live makes the vast majority of them dependent on the goodwill of a few.

Government in Business

By RAYMOND MOLEY

NEW YORK.—A sound rule in judging the desirability of passing a law is to determine in advance the answers to two questions: Is the matter to be corrected something which will adjust itself without the interference of government? Will the government's action correct the situation or raise new and more serious problems?

These questions apply with serious force to the bill now before Congress designed to project public ownership and co-operatives into the telephone business. The bill provides that the Rural Electrification Administration shall be authorized to make loans for the supplying of telephone service in rural areas which now have little or no such facilities.

Preference in granting these loans would be to private companies, but in effect if a private company should deem it unwise to borrow government money to serve a given area, public agencies such as municipalities and co-operatives would be able to get low-interest loans and move into the telephone business. Thus, private companies would be faced with the alternative of either doing something that their business prudence forbids them to do, or seeing developed a type of government-supported competition, which might seriously injure them and possibly end in their own absorption by government.

* * * * * *

The companies which have appeared before Congress in opposition to the bill have pointed out a number of considerations which make this proposal not only unnecessary but dangerous.

In the first place, private companies have been extending their services to rural regions at a remarkable rate. In a total of nearly 6,000,000 farms, it is estimated by the government that about 42 per cent have telephones this year. That compares with 25 per cent in 1940. Thus, private companies, despite the war and shortages of material, for which they are not responsible, have made, and are making, tremendous strides in supplying service. Since the end of the war more than 1,000,000 rural telephones have been installed.

It should be noted that the loans would be made by the R.E.A., which in the past has shown a tremendous inclination to lend to co-operatives. According to the Hoover Commission, only 21 loans for rural electrification have been made to private power companies, but public power agencies have received 61 and co-operatives, 952. The same trend would undoubtedly appear in the telephone business if this bill were passed.

Co-operatives would not only have a great advantage in getting loans, but because of their relief from heavy taxation they would have an immense and unfair competitive advantage over private companies. This bill, like many other proposals in the present Congress, marks the steady drift of this Administration toward Socialism.

It Can Happen Here

(From The Financial Post)

THOSE who scoff at the Communist menace in Canada, pooh-pooh the danger abroad, and repeat the parrot cry of "it can't happen here" should ponder the violent attempt to tie up our ocean shipping. They should also ponder the stark fact that shipping is by no means the only vital industry into which Communist labor leaders have penetrated and obtained control.

In the electrical manufacturing field, upon which the country must depend for much of its secret defence apparatus, including radar, organized labor is dominated and led by avowed Communists. The same applies to the chemical and explosives industry, vital for production of munitions and other defence necessities. The labor working our metal mines, including nickel and gold, is held in the same sinister control as well as that supplying most of our forest industry and our shipbuilding.

Tie up any of these industries, as our ocean shipping has been tied up, and Canada not only would be unable to defend itself but would be a liability instead of an asset to its allies.

On the international front tremendous strides toward common defence have been taken in recent months. These mighty and costly defences, however, will be worth no more than heaps of sand, unless there is a united and working country behind them. We have no guarantee or even hope of that so long as any of our vital industries are dominated by a party that takes its orders from Moscow.

Consumer Begins to Count

(From The Regina Leader-Post)

TOO many substandard wares are still being sold, but their presence on the shelves can scarcely be regarded by merchants with equanimity in a period of greater consumer choice.

A related development was a marked decline in the standards of service. The householder requiring a job done too often encountered the attitude that the firm concerned was conferring a favor on him in accepting the assignment. Repair crews turned up when they liked, worked as they liked, charged pretty well what they liked.

In business, too, there was frequently an attitude of indifference, extending to employees who felt themselves irreplaceable in an era of labor shortages, and left customers chewing their nails while they gossiped over counters about next week's hockey game.

This is in no sense a blanket condemnation; many firms undoubtedly tried their level best to maintain standards, but it can hardly be denied that there was a general trend across the board which has left the consumer with a strong and in many cases justifiable sense of grievance.

Now that the warning signs are out, the wise establishments will be those who ensure themselves in public favor by anticipating the new conditions and preparing themselves accordingly. To pass off shoddy merchandise or to adopt a cavalier attitude towards servicing jobs has simply ceased to be smart business, if it could ever have been so regarded. The consumer at long last is coming into his own and he wants some changes made.

Peter Pariout had a curious experience last week. He went up to Augusta to oppose a sales tax bill, and had quite a speech ready. But he got into the wrong hearing, and didn't know it, and gave his speech anyway. The committee didn't know it, either, and alone and single-handed Mr. Pariout defeated a move to create a bird sanctuary in Township P, Range 12.—The Lisbon (Maine) Enterprise.

Observation Car: By G. B.

A FAIRFIELD resident who owns a tiny English automobile had the misfortune to run into one of the doors on his garage and bend both front fenders. Before the end of the day he had answered at least 25 curious friends who wanted to know how the accident occurred. Just as he was turning in the driveway at dinner time, a neighbor inquired: "Well, well. What happened to your egg beater?" The motorist replied: "Nothing much. I just ran over a mouse" . . . A single clause in Britain's Coal Industry Bill runs 394 words without a full stop. First it was austerity; now it is verbosity . . . From The Ottawa Journal: "Freedom of speech and freedom of political action by no stretch of the imagination can be made to include the right to plot and conspire against the welfare of this country and the stability of its institutions" . . . The Seattle Real Estate Board Bulletin said about real estate salesmen: "Obviously an owner can sell his own house and save a commission, and sometimes a buyer can search out an owner and think he is saving a commission. Likewise the owner of an aching jaw can pull his own tooth, the automobile owner can repair his own carburetor, the unclad man make his own suit, and the farmer can sell his own flour, but they do not do it often. They soon learn to go to the market place. The market place for housing is in the real estate office, at least until a better place is found. The wise owner seeking to sell will find a reputable real estate office just as he finds an able doctor, lawyer or banker, and discuss his sales problems there. The owner will save time, money and a tremendous amount of peace of mind. In addition, he will sell his house."

The Packsack

Of GREGORY CLARK

STATISTICS from all over the continent indicate that the most dangerous hour in traffic is in the early evening.

The two most reasonable explanations for this are that the light is fading at this hour, artificial lights are coming on, and people are tired.

It would be fair to include another and even more important factor: a good many people are in a bad temper at that hour. The vast majority of us go home around 6 p.m. in a fairly good humor; the day's work is done; rest and leisure and a good dinner await us. We may be tired, but we're happy.

But there are others in a different mood. Truck drivers and delivery men who have been frustrated all day by delays over which they had no control. Maybe they, too, would like to be going home with the majority of us, to a decent supper and a night out. But here they are, fighting massed supper-time traffic, with another hour's work ahead of them before they can even think of heading back to the company garage, let alone go home.

In the 7 to 8 p.m. traffic is another group of men—those who have been detained at the office or factory. It is usually at the end of the day that troubles pile up in business. And there is always some poor devil, on every office or factory staff, who is elected to remain behind and clean up the trouble. By the time he locks up and goes out to the deserted parking lot for his car, he is in no fit condition to drive a car. His jaw is set. He smoulders. Thoughts of quitting the job boil in his mind. As he starts home in the gloaming, he has to meet the already mounting and joyous traffic of those starting gaily out for the evening. It is not cars alone that collide between 7 and 8 p.m. It is moods.

If driving a car were a mechanical job, there would be few accidents. But temperament is the incalculable factor.

Doukhobor Terrorism Flaming In New Kootenay Fire Raids

VANCOUVER, April 25 (CP). — Fire, the symbol of Doukhobor protest, has flamed again across the sides in British Columbia.

In the latest outbreak of Doukhobor terrorism — blamed on the Sons of Freedom, radical branch of the strange religious sect—an $85,000 school was destroyed, and three other incendiary fires were reported during the week-end.

At each fire, police found evidence of incendiarism—fuses made of a foot-long cloth, and a torch soaked in gasoline. Each fuse had matches attached to one end.

NEW TERROR LOOMS

Renewal of the fire raids, which in the 50-year history of the Doukhobors have caused property losses exceeding $1,000,000 and the loss of ten lives, may mean another terror reign through the rich Kootenay lands.

Dynamite was used to blast a new school at Tarrys, a centre of the Sons of Freedom, known to their fellow Doukhobors as "Freedomites." It is 20 miles west of Nelson.

Following the explosion, flames shot through the new school which was to have opened today.

At Grand Forks, 85 miles to the west, a trail of fire was left in a rich orchard district. A packing-house and two tool sheds were put to the torch. The buildings were

FOLLOW USUAL PATTERN

Each fire, investigators said, followed the pattern of Doukhobor raiders, who in previous fires used gasoline-soaked torches or bottles filled with explosive liquids.

Sons of Freedom have protested the Orthodox Doukhobors acceptance of modern Canadian life instead of the ancient ways of their Russian forefathers.

Investigators believe another source of disagreement are plans made for the 50th anniversary of the coming of the Doukhobors to Canada from Russia.

The Orthodox members of the sect are making all arrangements for a celebration and have denied the Sons of Freedom the right to participate.

Bill Pledged To Increase Age Pensions

OTTAWA, April 28 (CP). — Increased basic old-age pensions will be provided under legislation to be launched in the Commons tomorrow by Health Minister Martin, it was learned today.

Mr. Martin told the House in response to questioning today that the Government's policy would be disclosed in a resolution of which he will give notice tomorrow. He did not indicate the nature of the new policy.

However, it was reported unofficially that the changes would consist of a $10-a-month increase in the basic pension of $50 a month, with the qualifying age for women lowered from 70 to 65 years. The qualifying age for men would remain at 70.

In addition to the basic pension —which is paid on a contributory basis between Federal and Provincial Governments—some provinces pay an additional amount on their own, bringing the total pension in some cases up to $40 a month.

It was understood the Government at present was not making any changes in the "means test."

"Book Early" Advise Hotels

MONTREAL, April 25.—"Make advance reservations as soon as possible" was the advice given by Canadian Pacific Railway hotel officials today as they announced the opening and closing dates of their Summer resort hotels. Pointing out that well over 3,000 persons are booked into the resort hotels on convention traffic alone, mostly for June and September, the officials said that advance bookings from vacationists are coming in steadily.

Opening and closing dates for the Summer hotels are: The Pines, Digby, N.S., and Lakeside Inn, Yarmouth, N.S., June 24 to September 9; The Algonquin, St. Andrews, N.B., June 25 to September 6; Devil's Gap Lodge, Kenora, Ont., June 11 to September 8; Banff Springs Hotel, June 1 to September 11; Chateau Lake Louise, June 11 to September 11; Emerald Lake Chalet, June 11 to September 11; Yoho Valley, Lake Wapta and Lake O'Hara Lodges in the Rockies, June 18 to September 8; and Moraine Lake Lodge, June 11 to September 11.

Russian Spy May Be Link To New Ring

OTTAWA, April 25 (CP).—Deportation from Canada is on the books for Dimitry Leshchenko, former Russian army officer held on spy charges in Winnipeg.

Justice Minister Garson announced today that a board of inquiry, set up under the Immigration Act, signed the ousting order Saturday.

However, there appeared to be a possibility that the 36-year-old spy may be held for questioning into what could be a second big Canadian espionage ring. No statement as to when the deportation will take place or to what country was available in Ottawa.

Meanwhile, mystery shrouded discovery of Leshchenko, who entered Canada despite a tight screening of displaced person immigrants by Canadian teams including immigration, labor and R.C.M.P. representatives.

NABBED IN CALGARY

Leshchenko, apprehended in Calgary last Tuesday, came to Canada 11 months ago as a displaced person. He admitted having served as a Red agent in the British zone of Germany. Calgary reports said he might have been sending Russia information on Ukrainians in that area, resulting in the persecution of relatives at home.

No statement was immediately forthcoming as to whether the case will be handled in a routine way by immigration officials, or whether it will be a matter for the External Affairs department, military intelligence or Cabinet-level consideration.

At Winnipeg meanwhile, deportation of Leshchenko was reported to remove but one of a number of espionage agents operating in Canada under orders from the U.S.S.R.

Shortly after the Ottawa announcement that Leshchenko would be deported, The Winnipeg Free Press published a front page story saying that a displaced person in the service of the Ruslan Secret Police had been operating in Winnipeg until a few weeks ago.

The Free Press, which did not give the source of its information, said its informant had talked to the suspected Red agent at the railway station following his arrival in Winnipeg.

The man was reported to have been disguised as a Greek Orthodox priest and, the former D.P. said, had connections with the German Communist party at Buchotz.

The Free Press' informant was reported to have said, "this priest agent of the Russian Secret Police left Winnipeg as soon as he had been discovered by the D.P. police official I have told you about."

At Calgary Russian-born Nick Karaban disclosed that he tipped off the R.C.M.P. that Leshchenko was a former Russian army officer. He said he did it "because I like Canada."

Karaban returned to Calgary Sunday night from Winnipeg, where he appeared as a corroborating witness for the R.C.M.P. against Leshchenko.

However, Karaban said that when he gave his information to police, he found that they already had the Russian spy under surveillance.

LIKED RUSSIA TOO MUCH

Karaban said he met Leshchenko while they were coming to this country as displaced persons from Germany. They worked together on a railway section gang near Banff, Alta., and later roomed together here for a time.

"He (Leshchenko) talked a lot about Russia when we were together," Karaban said. "I did not like this because he liked Russia too much. I like Canada. It is a free country, while Russia and Germany are not. So I went to the police."

WICKERSLEY, England, April 25 (Reuters). — Lightning has made this Yorkshire village's clock strike five minutes early every hour.

The villagers have decided to leave it that way because they find it helps everyone to be on time.

The local policeman, the village schoolmaster and the rector of the village church all favor it.

"Everyone now knows they have five more minutes before the hour when the clock strikes," said one citizen. "And they are more punctual. The boys can run to school in that time. It might be a good idea if all village clocks struck the hour five minutes early."

Germans Not as Bitter Over Fate as Expected

Interpreting the News

By J. M. ROBERTS JR.
A. P. Foreign News Analyst

Western Germany, after much compromise between its political parties and a shift in Allied pressures, seems about to get the Federal Government whose fate has been hanging in the balance for several weeks.

While compromise is still the proper word, there are indications that the Social Democrats, standing for greater centralization of power than the Christian Democrats or the French had been willing to grant, have won a considerable victory.

The French apparently were brought to agreement in Washington in view of Atlantic Pact security against any possible aggression by a revived Germany. The Christian Democrats, by the same token, must have lost such American support as they previously enjoyed in demanding a greater share of autonomy for the individual German state.

SPEEDY ACTION

The sudden flight of Robert Murphy, State Department expert on Germany, to enter into the negotiations makes it pretty clear that the Germans had been told to do something quickly.

Otherwise the Allies might have dropped their plans for an end of military government and gone ahead with tri-zonal unification on their own.

Although there was considerable German criticism of the Allied occupation statute under which the new government will have to operate, American officials have said it was not so bitter as they had expected. The statute gives the Allies a technical veto over almost any act of the proposed government. But the Germans have been assured that in actual administration there will be no interference with internal affairs, unless they affect security or foreign relations.

DELAYS COSTLY

Although the Germans have been credited with knowing that they couldn't do business with Russia, repeated delays in the work on the constitution had given rise to considerable speculation. There was wonder whether the Germans really intended to go ahead, or whether they might be listening to rumors feelers for a new four-power conference on possible German unification.

The Germans naturally hate to give formal recognition to the division of their country. The Russians and Eastern German Communists might have been trying to slow up things at the parliamentary council meeting in Bonn by raising hopes that a separate government for Western Germany would be unnecessary.

But there has been no public evidence that the Russians actually intended to make a conciliatory move.

President Truman and other officials have denied receipt of any such feelers. The German party leaders probably were told this frankly—that they had nothing in that quarter to bank on.

Petticoat Rule Held Certain In U.K. Town

BISHOP'S ITCHINGTON, Warwickshire, England, April 25 (CP).—This village shortly will have petticoat government, something that hasn't happened before in any of Britain's municipal councils.

In the parish county election scheduled for May 9, women can't help but win the control of the seven-seat council.

While the men were busy working in gardens, the women planned an assault on the council seats. They filed candidate's papers for all seven vacancies. The men—more concerned with potatoes than parochial matters—turned in a number of spoiled papers or else filed them too late.

Only one male candidate, cement-worker Fred Marlow who has been a councillor for 20 years, managed to get his papers filed correctly.

White-haired Council Clerk Harold Morgan thinks women will sweep the board and says "it's a good thing, too."

Court Lenient With 4 Sailors Charged in Window-Smashing

Four sailors from H.M.C.S. Naden were assessed $2.50 costs and ordered to pay $12.50 each in city police court yesterday when they pleaded guilty to a joint charge of doing [illegible] window in the F. W. Woolworth Co. Ltd. store, 1304 Douglas Street.

Magistrate H. C. Hall made the fine one-quarter of the cost of replacing the window.

The men were Harold D. Abbott, Arnold Gibson, Clarence Carlson and James Browne.

Claude L. Harrison, city prosecutor, said they knocked over a weighing machine which fell through a large window. The men were arrested by Constable Brian Ferguson after he commandeered an old car for the chase.

FAILED TO REMAIN

John E. Cooper, West Saanich, was fined $35 and had his driver's licence suspended for two months when he pleaded guilty to a charge of failing to remain at the scene of an accident on Gorge Road April 17.

The city prosecutor told the magistrate the accused was the driver of a car which struck a wrecking truck. He said the accused failed to stop and was later caught by Saanich Police.

DRIVING CHARGE

Henry Mark, 455 Moss Street, was charged with being in control of a car while intoxicated on Saturday. He was remanded without plea until this morning.

Charge was laid after an accident on Quadra Street near Hillside Avenue.

Donald A. Stewart, 920 Wilmer Street, was remanded until Thursday for judgement on a dangerous driving charge arising out of an accident April 16 on Gorge Road. James J. Proudfoot is representing the accused. Charge was laid by Constable Donald Bute.

SAMMY JAY SPEAKS HIS MIND

The more Peter Rabbit thought it over the stranger it seemed to him that such big people as Ol' Mistah Buzzard and Mrs. Buzzard should be content to have no nest. If he hadn't seen with his own eyes those two Buzzard babies in the great hollow log, and if he hadn't heard with his own ears Ol' Mistah Buzzard say that when there was no big hollow log handy Mrs. Buzzard would lay her eggs on top of a stump, and when there was no stump handy she would lay them on the bare ground, he wouldn't, he was sure, have been able to believe that anything of the kind could be true.

There was no one with whom he could talk the matter over save Sammy Jay. You see Peter had promised not to give the Buzzard secret away and Sammy was the only one Peter knew of who also knew that secret. So, the first chance he got, Peter asked Sammy what he thought of the matter and if he supposed there was any good reason why the Buzzards didn't build a nest.

"Shiftlessness!" replied Sammy scornfully. "Just plain shiftlessness. They are too lazy and shiftless to go to the trouble of building a nest, that's all. Ol' Mistah Buzzard is just naturally lazy and Mrs. Buzzard is just like him. Have you ever seen Ol' Mistah Buzzard do a stroke of work since you've known him?"

Peter couldn't remember that he had and said so.

"Of course, you haven't," asserted Sammy in the same scornful voice as before. "Of course, you haven't. Why? Because he hasn't done any work. All he does is just sail round in the blue, blue sky or sit in the sun on that old dead tree. When he's sailing round and round he doesn't move his wings any more than he has to. He doesn't even catch his own food."

"I don't hold that against him," declared Peter promptly, thinking how he had to always be on the watch to escape Hooty-the-Owl and members of the Hawk family, "but now you mention the matter I wonder what he does eat. I hadn't thought of it before. Do you know what he does eat?"

"Yes," replied Sammy, "I know. There was both scorn and disgust in his voice this time. "He eats things that no one else would think of eating. He eats dead things, and he don't seem to care how long they have been dead. He is the most shiftless fellow I know of. You are rather shiftless yourself, Peter, but compared with Ol' Mistah Buzzard you are almost industrious. I can't understand how anyone can be so shiftless and lazy. It doesn't surprise me to find out that he and Mrs. Buzzard don't build a nest. I guess I would have been more surprised to find that they did. I know a good many shiftless folks, but none equal to Ol' Mistah Buzzard and Mrs. Buzzard. Sometimes I wonder if the reason they have bald heads is because they are too lazy to grow feathers on them."

"You certainly have got a mighty small opinion of the Buzzard family," said he.

Sammy grinned at his own joke and Peter laughed. "You certainly have got a mighty small opinion of the Buzzard family, Sammy," said he.

"I certainly have," retorted Sammy. "I may have faults, but laziness isn't one of them. The idea of great, big, able-bodied birds like Mistah and Mrs. Buzzard being content to have their eggs on the ground without so much as a stick or a straw under them! I call it a disgrace to the whole feathered tribe."

Sammy Jay flirted his tail, tossed his head, and then flew away, leaving Peter to think things over and, I suspect with a lot less respect for Ol' Mistah Buzzard than he had had before.

Next Story: Peter asks a personal question.

Canon Deplores "Want" In World of Abundance

Canon Michael Coleman, in an address to the Gyro Club yesterday, said industry's greatest problem today rested in its inability to conduct proper distribution of its products.

Today, with man's advanced science and know-how, it is possible to produce the necessities of life for all people on earth, but there are still people going without shoes and clothing and food . . . there are still slums . . . even here in Victoria."

He suggested that the spirit of Christianity, rather than the "profit motive," should take first place in industry.

SHOULD BE FOR ALL

"Resources of the land should be developed for the common good of all, not just for a few," the Canon added.

He said God never intended man to be without the necessities of life.

Professing not to be a believer in Communism, Canon Coleman said the Russian people were "filled with a passion of zeal . . . they are determined to make their economic system work."

He described Communism as "a false system . . . in which the state was more important than the individual."

Faith in God and sincere application of Christianity, he concluded, would do much toward settling problems now facing the world. Among the greatest, he added, were the fears of old age and unemployment. In a world so abundant with resources there was no need for such problems.

CAPITOL THEATRE Harry Carey, Jr., John Wayne and Pedro Armendariz put up a desperate fight against thirst and death on the desert in "Three Godfathers," new adventure drama directed by John Ford. The exciting Technicolor drama, now showing at the Capitol Theatre, was filmed in Death Valley, California.

DOMINION THEATRE There's love and music, youth and laughter, to say nothing of Dorothy Lamour and Don Ameche, in Columbia Pictures' merry masquerade, "Slightly French," at the Dominion Theatre.

ATLAS THEATRE Burt Lancaster and Barbara Stanwyck have starring roles in Paramount's film version of the radio thriller "Sorry, Wrong Number." The suspense drama features Ann Richards, Wendell Corey and Harold Vermilyea.

ROYAL THEATRE "Yellow Sky," starring Gregory Peck and Anne Baxter is now playing at the Royal Theatre. The film is a tense and gripping story of elemental emotions played out against a rugged outdoor setting as primitive as life itself. It unfolds the story of seven desperate outlaws who, forced to take refuge in a ghost town, tumble across a treasure horde of gold and a pretty girl whom they each mark as their personal prize. Tension mounts as Gregory Peck finds himself matched against Richard Widmark for the girl and the gold.

And the Walls Came Tumbling

By JOSEPH McCORD

CHAPTER XXVI—Continued

"And I don't give a darn, Andy!" he exclaimed when he could get his breath. "I mean it, old man. But you have had me baffled on that score ever since I struck Jericho. I hate to be stuck on a puzzle of any kind. I'm like that. Naturally, I'm not going to make any use of my guess, for that is all it is. Neither will anyone else. But I feel a little better now. Hope you don't mind my ribbing you about it." He looked anxiously at Andy's unsmiling face.

"It's all right, Chet."

"See here! I'm sorry if . . ."

"I said it was all right. It is. But, since you've stumbled on that much, I think I'd like to have you know a little more. I know well enough that you won't peddle it."

"Yes. You know that. And by the same token you don't have to tell me a thing."

"Sure." Andy smiled for the first time. "But you've a sneaking idea you're going to be in the family, though I'm not putting down any bets on that one. When you started, I thought you'd picked up some one tries to prove it around. The local ear-benders don't know I was acquainted with Nettie Corwin long before she came here. And since I've been dropping in there now and again they're all hoping for the worst."

"I see what you mean. They would."

"I was sorry when it came to Carol's ears, but she knows a part of the truth. When she comes home she'll hear all of it." Andy bit off the tip of a fresh cigar and lighted it with meditative puffs.

"You see when I met Carol's mother," he continued slowly, "she was doing bit parts on the stage. So was Nettie. The Corwins and we saw some mighty lean times together. Mrs. Delaine left the theatre when Carol happened—always a delicate little thing. The Corwins did a heap for us, but I never got around to repay them. Pretty much of a rolling stone always. Sam finally got a federal job. It never paid much and they spent everything about as fast as it came in. But I always kept in touch with them more or less. And I mean 'touch.' I don't know where Sam got the dope about a factory coming here. I never asked. He might be interested. I believe I told you as much."

"Yes."

"What started me figuring was—Carol. I never saw much of her until I wandered back here to stay and she was nearly grown then. Her mother all over again. She'd never had a chance to go anywhere or see things, and it looked as if it might always be like that. Failure was written in bold type over her old man's door—but it never seemed to make any difference to her." There was a faraway look in Andy's blue eyes.

"It wouldn't," Chester said.

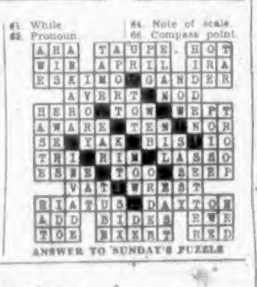
ANSWER TO SUNDAY'S PUZZLE



According to Culbertson

(Copyright, 1949, by Ely Culbertson)

In the great majority of deals a player should describe his own holding as accurately as possible by means of appropriate bids and not take it upon himself to "bid his partner's cards." Occasionally, however, this process simply will not work! In these cases, the player must take a stand concerning the probable winning trick total of the combined 26 cards. Let's look at one of these latter cases.

South, dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.

NORTH
♠ K 8 3
♥ Q J 6 4 3
♦ A
♣ K J 8 3

WEST
♠ J 9 7 3
♥ K 10 8 5
♦ K 10 7 4
♣ 5

EAST
♠ 5
♥ A 9 7
♦ Q J 8 6 5 3
♣ 10 4 2

SOUTH
♠ A Q 10 8 4
♥ 3
♦ 9 2
♣ A Q 9 7 6

South opened the bidding with one spade. (Some good players would bid a club with South's hand, but in the opinion of this writer such a practice is to be condemned.

With the opponents staying out of the auction, the bidding then proceeded: Two hearts by North, three clubs by South. When this three-club bid got around to North, certain inferences were unmistakable. South must have at least ten cards in the black suits, and he could not be weaker than ace-queen in both of these suits to justify his bidding, unless he happened to have the ace or king of hearts or the king of diamonds. South's rapid ascension to the three-level could not have been justified on lesser values.

North fully realized that he could, if he chose, bid three diamonds over three clubs in an effort to show control of diamonds, and later jump to five clubs as a slam invitation. He also appreciated the more important fact, however, that this course of bidding might do South no good whatsoever; that if South had only his minimum for the two bids made, he would be unable to move over five clubs.

So, on the not-illogical assumption that South's maximum three red cards figured to be a singleton heart and two diamonds rather than the other way round, North took it upon himself to jump straight from three clubs to six clubs. In so doing, he was technically overbidding his own holding, but he was only diagnosing the combined resources.

Expect Princess' Visit To Change Italian Styles

ROME, April 25 (Reuters).—An Italian dressmaker today predicted that Italy will be swept by the "Margaret look"—fashions from clothes to be worn by princess Margaret on her Italian tour which starts Wednesday.

News that the princess is bringing 24 Molyneux dresses—made for the canceled Australian tour—has heightened interest among fashion-conscious Italian women. Pictures of the princess will almost certainly become models for dressmakers both in large towns and small villages, fashion experts say.

Interest in the visit has been rising during the last few days, the public following with particular avidity details of the controversy whether the princess should visit the Pope. The Vatican has already stated it would welcome such a visit if a request should be made for an audience.

High excitement was reported today from Naples—republican Italy's monarchist stronghold — where the princess will arrive by air from London.

Huge crowds are expected at the airport to catch the first sight of the princess when she alights on Italian soil. Hundreds of extra police are being assigned to protect the princess and her party.

Despite warnings that the princess' visit is private, crowds are expected at places she is to visit.

Romans are already trying to book seats for the opera for nights on which they think the princess will attend.

Port Alberni Girl Bride Of Deryk H. T. Kingsley

PORT ALBERNI, April 23.—Victoria shared interest with Port Alberni in the Saturday evening wedding of Madelynn Beryl, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Davison, and Deryk H. T. Kingsley, son of Cmdr. and Mrs. H. Kingsley of Victoria.

The double-ring ceremony took place on the 21st wedding anniversary of the bride's parents. Rev. F. E. Church performed the marriage service in First United Church.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was preceded down the aisle by her four attendants — Jeanne Robinson, as maid of honor; Kaye Romaniuk and Gail Watson as bridesmaids; and the bride's nine-year-old sister, Carol, as junior bridesmaid.

The bridal gown was of white brocaded satin, with lace yoke and high neckline. It had long, tight-fitting sleeves and a hoop skirt was caught up over an underskirt of lace. The veil, slightly en train, was held in place by a floral coronet. A beautiful bouquet of red roses and calla lilies completed the charming ensemble.

The maid of honor and the bridesmaids wore identical gowns of floor-length taffeta fashioned with cap sleeves, fitted bodices and peplums. Miss Robinson was in pink, Miss Romaniuk in turquoise, and Miss Watson in pale gold. Each wore matching net headdresses and carried carnation muffs in contrasting shades.

Ron Christiansen supported the groom and acting as ushers were Alan Davison, brother of the bride, and Don Berringer. The wedding music was played by Mrs. W. Moncur and during the signing of the register Mr. Moncur sang "Through the Years."

A reception was held at the Rosebank following the ceremony. The mothers of the young couple assisted in receiving the guests. Mrs. Kingsley wore a suit of soft grey and Mrs. Davison chose a grey flowered crepe dress.

A four-tiered wedding cake centred the bride's table. The toast was proposed by Mr. Max Wright.

The bride chose a three-piece grey suit for her wedding trip to Vancouver, Seattle and Victoria. Her accessories were of pink, with a pink corsage. Upon their return they will make their home in Port Alberni.

Out-of-town guests included Cmdr. and Mrs. Kingsley, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Hudson of Cumberland, the bride's aunt and uncle, and Mr. and Mrs. E. Courts of Cumberland.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Brooks, of "Babbacombe," Royal Oak, announce the engagement of their elder daughter, Barbara Evelyn, to Sylvanus Charles (Syd), son of Mr. and Mrs. S. Robbins, Burbidge Road. The marriage will take place quietly next month.

Tomato Aspic Cool, Bright

Tomato Aspic makes a cooked savory salad for meals now that the days are getting warmer, says Eleanor Noderer in McCall's for April, where she tells you how to make and mold one:

TOMATO ASPIC

1 envelope unflavored gelatine
2 cups tomato juice
¼ teaspoon salt
6 whole black peppers
2 bouillon cubes
1 slice onion
1 stalk celery
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce

Soften gelatine in ½ cup tomato juice. Mix remaining tomato juice with other ingredients. Simmer 10 minutes. Strain and mix with gelatine. Chill.

Place garnish in mold. (Egg and olive slices are very pretty because of their bright colors.) Spoon a little aspic over garnish carefully so as not to disturb design. Chill.

Pour remaining aspic on chilled garnish and place the mold in the refrigerator to chill until firm all the way through. This will take a good 3, possibly 4 hours.

Unmold aspic with care. Loosen edge with sharp knife. Then dip mold very quickly into a pan of hot water. Be sure not to leave in water too long or aspic will start to melt.

Turn quickly upside down on cold platter. Arrange lettuce cups or other crisp greens around. Serve with a good mayonnaise, French dressing or a dash of lemon juice.

Bride Wears White Satin

St. Alban's Church was the scene of a pretty wedding on April 16 when Eleanor Rose Maurine Bursey, daughter of Mrs. Sarah E. Bursey, 2553 Shelbourne street, exchanged vows with Robert B. Curran, son of Mr. Robert Curran, 1209 North Park Street. Rev. F. E. M. Tomalin officiated.

Mr. James Breakell gave the bride in marriage, and for her wedding she wore a gown of white satin with lace yoke and full skirt en train. Her full-length veil of sheer net was held by a coronet of seed pearls and she carried red roses.

Miss Betty Curran, sister of the groom, wearing pale mauve moire, and Miss Joan Veitch, in pale green brocaded satin, attended the bride. They wore floral headdresses and carried Johanna Hill and Rapture roses.

Junie Yeamans was flower girl for her aunt, in a floor-length rose moire frock. She wore a garland of blossoms in her hair and carried a Colonial nosegay.

Mr. Albert Curtis was best man, and Mr. Dick Rennison and Mr. William Irwin were the ushers.

Mr. Joseph Veitch proposed the toast to the bride at a reception held in the church hall where Mrs. Bursey and Mrs. J. J. Moon, sister of the bride, received the guests.

Leaving for a honeymoon in Vancouver the bride traveled in a light blue suit with matching hat and accessories, navy topcoat and corsage of Rapture roses.

Stormy Court Session As Decision Reversed

Judge H. H. Shandley yesterday reversed a Small Debts Court decision in a stormy County Court session. He repeatedly interrupted to tell one of the lawyers A. P. Dawe, to stop "talking nonsense."

The hearing was an appeal by W. D. Kennedy, of the Kennedy Realty Co., against a March 8 ruling of Magistrate H. C. Hall awarding C. F. Gervais, 442 Superior Street, a former realty salesman in Mr. Kennedy's employ, a sum of $106.86.

The sum represented 25 per cent of the sales commission on a house owned jointly by Gervais and his wife, but sold through another agent, C. A. Conrad.

ENTITLED TO SHARE

Kennedy, represented by Frank Higgins, K.C., won the appeal after the judge ruled that since Gervais then worked for him and had the property listed with him, Kennedy was entitled to 25 per cent of the commission even though another agent had sold the property.

Under Gervais' employment agreement with Kennedy, the company was to get 25 per cent of his commission on all of his sales.

When Mr. Higgins began to cross-examine Mr. Gervais on the transaction, Mr. Dawe objected that the deal was not a factor in the appeal. He said that since the property was owned by both Mr. Gervais and his wife, Mr. Kennedy was wrong in deducting the commission from money he owed Gervais when Gervais left his company.

JUDGE INTERRUPTS

"Now you be quiet and I'll be able to follow this," Judge Shandley told him. Later he turned to Gervais and said: "If you could only keep your counsel quiet, I'd find out what this was about."

After Mr. Dawe objected that Mr. Higgins was arguing a counter-claim that had no legitimate place in the appeal, Judge Shandley told him that he was just talking nonsense."

"It's only a question of whether they owe it or they don't," he said. "If you'll sit down a minute I'll tell you what it's all about."

Then a flurry arose when Mr. Higgins asked Mr. Dawe for a document to enter as an exhibit in the case.

"You can't have it," Mr. Dawe said.

"Why not?" asked Mr. Higgins.

"Because it's mine," Mr. Dawe replied. "You didn't give me any notice to produce any papers."

AGREES AS COURTESY

Finally he agreed. "Just as a courtesy I'll give it to you. But if you enter it as an exhibit, you're stuck with it."

At the conclusion of Mr. Kennedy's case, Mr. Dawe objected again that "I still don't know what the defendant's defence is. Then he drags in a counter-suit."

"No, no," Judge Shandley said. "Your own client knows that better than you. I wish you wouldn't talk nonsense."

"The whole thing boils down to should he have protected Kennedy for 25 per cent of the commission," the judge said.

"Now look . . ." Mr. Dawe said.

"Don't talk that way and say 'now look,'" the judge said. "You're in court now."

Court Upholds Sentence Of Year and Ten Lashes

Appeal Court yesterday upheld a sentence of one year and ten lashes each for two Vancouver loggers convicted of robbery with violence.

The pair, J. Postnikoff, 23 and Walter Dowhal, 18, were convicted of holding up William Ho, and sentenced in Vancouver police court last March 9 by Magistrate W. W. B. McInnes.

Earlier yesterday, the Appeal Court dismissed the loggers' appeal from conviction which had been based on a technicality.

A. E. Branca, lawyer for the loggers, told the court the youths had no previous record and added "this is not a case which even remotely would justify whipping." He said there was no evidence the Chinese victim had been injured.

He read from an Ontario judgment that lashes were "remnants of the Black Ages," and that "modern thought revolts at the idea of torture, whipping and solitary confinement."

George F. Gregory, Crown counsel, declared that discretion as to sentences of lashes was vested in trial courts and added that corporal punishment seemed fitting in cases of physical violence.

In reading the judgment of the [illegible] Sloan noted the "prevalence of crime and violence committed by young men in our larger centres of population. He cited holdups of banks, theatres and private citizens.

He said Magistrate McInnes had large and varied experience and had seen the two men he sentenced. "They were loggers, no doubt capable of high wages without crime," he went on.

"Robbery with violence is a serious crime," the Chief Justice said. "It is regarded so seriously by Parliament that it carries a maximum penalty of life imprisonment.

"We have given serious consideration to the sentence, and while severe, we do not feel it is of such unwarranted severity that we can alter it."

RESERVE JUDGMENT

The court reserved judgment on a second Vancouver appeal in which Mr. Branca appeared as Crown counsel.

He admitted that a charged bootlegger, J. Enders, Vancouver, seemed to have been convicted for possession of liquor alone.

Asking the court to rule on whether a man if found in possession of liquor should be convicted if he could not explain it, he said:

"If I had a bottle of beer in my pocket and was unable to prove in court that I was not keeping it for sale, I could be convicted."

Liberal Post For Cummins

Executive: Mrs. William Strannix, Mrs. F. A. Poole, C. G. Davies, Mrs. Lynn, Mrs. Turnbull, Mrs. Exton and Mrs. Donegan.

Arthur Ash (M.L.A., Saanich) spoke briefly on the Liberal convention held at Vancouver recently.

ISSUE PERMITS

Permit for alterations to cost $8,700 was issued by the city building inspector yesterday to Tip Top Tailors. Alterations will be carried out on the company's store front at 650 Yates Street.

Permits were also issued Mr. and Mrs. W. Harris for erection of a dwelling at Richmond Avenue to cost $6,500; to J. F. W. Moore for erection of a dwelling at 1901 Davie Street to cost $6,000.

Funeral Rites For J. Owens Set Wednesday

Funeral service for James Owens, 2858 Admirals Road, former Saanich police commissioner and school board trustee, will be held at 3 p.m. Wednesday from Hayward's Funeral Chapel.

Mr. Owens died Sunday at St. Joseph's Hospital.

Born in Bangor, County Down, Ireland, Mr. Owens was a brother of Inspector Robert Owens of the British Columbia Police.

He had resided in Saanich for more than 50 years and was a member of A.F. & A.M. Mount Newton, No. 89, and also A.O.F.

Mr. Owens was a builder and carpenter.

Besides his wife, Florence, at home, he leaves two daughters, Mrs. Arthur R. Hewitt, Switzerland, and Miss Doreen, at home; two sisters, Mrs. T. T. Hutchison, Cordova Bay, and Mrs. John Munro, Victoria; two brothers, Inspector Owens and Norman, of Vancouver; and a granddaughter, Karen.

Chaplain G. L. Gillard will officiate. Burial will be in the family plot, Ross Bay Cemetery.

N. H. Parkins Takes Honors For Oratory

A 33-year-old advertising man took top honors last night in the Victoria district finals and will represent Vancouver Island in the Dominion-wide Junior Chamber of Commerce oratorical contest.

He is Norman H. Parkins, 2641 Fifth Street, who placed first over three other finalists — Glen Murdoch, William Temple and James Isaac.

Contest judge Frank Paulding, in presenting Mr. Parkins with the annual trophy and replica, declared: "I must congratulate all four speakers for their efforts tonight. Mr. Parkins' vocalization was particularly fine and his material was good, especially the start and finish."

STARTED SERIOUS STUDY

Mr. Parkins began serious study of public speaking five years ago with the Capital City Speakers' Club and later became a member of the Junior Chamber's Gavel Club.

He will compete against five other British Columbia finalists at the Junior Chamber convention at Prince Rupert.

That winner will compete later for the Western Canada title, holder of which will seek the national trophy at the Dominion convention later this Summer at Toronto.

Other judges were Doris Bagshawe and William Clark.

He asked that a public works committee report would be prepared as soon as it could be found how to get money for the repairs needed.

TO REPLACE SIGNS

Then Mr. Guillemaud asked about road signs that had been taken down for repainting last Summer and never replaced. He was told they would be put back soon.

He asked that Councillors Smith and Ellis be put on a committee with Mr. Fletcher to draft new building bylaws.

Then referring to the street signs and line painting on Esquimalt Street he complained. We make things and nothing takes place. Motions are moved, passed and then forgotten.

There's no forgotten, Reeve Thomas replied.

Well, some of them drag on for months, said Mr. Guillemaud. He asked that the public works committee get together with the works superintendent to get things moving.

Boon for Workmen Over 45, Company Prefers Experience

The rheumatoid workman is better than he used to be in the opinion of the operators of the Sea Board Home Scraps company, recently chartered in Victoria.

The firm which specializes in repairing roofs from roofing to chimneys proposes to employ men from 45 to 65 years of age.

Partners J. W. Dodds, himself a veteran of two wars and Michael McDonald, disabled pensioner from the last war report that union rates of pay will be paid.

But "even a guy to be good at his job doesn't have to be over 45," they said.

Boemler [illegible] than 10 batters to find the range [illegible] and was yanked in favor of Fleming as always going to be as bad as Cirimeli. Two more runs scored on was last night. Tim McCullough, leader's choices as Cirimeli retired [illegible] the side.

Cirimeli gave up the final two of [illegible] runs in the fifth when a walk to Larry Barton was followed by Bob [illegible] Hedrington's single and a double by [illegible] Ken Kinman.

Meanwhile the A's were having no trouble getting men on the base-[illegible] but failed to bring a different matter. The Spokane right-hander showed a neat variety of speed but his control was off and when Vadine swings into action, he pitched a lot of baseball before going out under fire in the eighth inning.

MISSED CHANCES

First Victoria run came in the second when Bob Day was hit by a pitched ball, went to third on Bob Keelera double and scored as Cirimeli grounded out. Two walks and a single by Hack in the fifth filled the bases with one out but the A's could only manage one run. Eased in when Day was again hit by a pitched ball. Losers loaded the bags again in the sixth and left them that way after manufacturing two runs on Gil McDougald's single a wild pitch and Frank Finnegans double.

LAST OPPORTUNITY

Victoria made its last bid in the eighth when A. B. Everett tripled to right field with one out, scoring Hack who had walked. Everett died on third as Doc was [illegible] a great play by Pat San Clemente and Kreuger [illegible] deep. Teagan who was to have started tonight came in when Hack waived and was safe after giving up Everett's extra base hit.

Although the A's lost there was a bright side to the game. Cirimeli gained on his usual form and Vince Pesky was even better in his first outing. Pesky showed the heads-up baseball [illegible] possessed steadiness at bat and [illegible] Spokane to [illegible] Victoria [illegible] Wednesday night.

DIAMOND DUST

Cecil [illegible] with singles for [illegible] than [illegible] Barton to [illegible] and was yanked in favor of Fleming as always going to be as bad as Cirimeli. Two more runs scored on was last night. Tim McCullough, leader's choices as Cirimeli retired [illegible] the side.

Second baseman George Valine [illegible] the Indians yesterday and will be in action soon. He [illegible] reports what should be one of the top [illegible] in the W.I.L. Ken Richardson will move over to the hot corner [illegible] Valine swings into action.

Wenatchee Chiefs made their hits [illegible] on Sunday against Bremerton. They had two in each game [illegible] and stored 11 runs in [illegible] 6-5, and whipping 6-4. Bill Woop made his first start for Newark Bears Sunday and the big left-hander held the hard-hitting Montreal Royals to four hits over the full route in winning 3-1. Bob Johnson, Tacoma manager, is on the active list and hit his first home run on Sunday while his club was losing a pair to Salem.

The many parts of this brake are accurately machined, heat treated and assembled to give long and trouble-free service.

This wonderful brake enables you to ride your C.C.M. bicycle at whatever speed you like – up and down hills and on the level – with perfect control.

When you pedal forward the smooth-acting clutch takes hold instantly – no slipping – no grabbing – just smooth, sure forward power.

The main crank hanger unit and the front hub of a C.C.M. are built with equal precision.

Then, too, the C.C.M. Bicycle has chromium plating over C.C.M. 20-year nickel on all the bright parts with baked-on lustrous enamel on the frame assembly.

These features of the C.C.M. bicycle, backed by over 3000 loyal C.C.M. dealers from coast to coast to give you check-up service, make the C.C.M. the best buy of all — it's the most bicycle for your money. Choose a C.C.M. and join the army of over a million satisfied users.

May Trade on Credit

LONDON, April 25 (CP).—The London Stock Exchange freed itself of restrictions on trading on credit which had been imposed at the beginning of the war. The exchange announced it would restore "carry-over" facilities through which traders can hold stock for longer than two weeks without making full payment.

Winnipeg Grain

WINNIPEG, April 25 (CP).—Coarse Grain futures prices moved narrowly on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange, showing a slightly easier tone in most cases. Oats came in for buying by mills, shippers and seaboard interests, while barley was bought by shippers.

Set Colorful Program For Services College

Marine News

Cadets of the Canadian Services College, Royal Roads, will wind up their year of academic instruction when finishing exercises are held at the college Friday afternoon.

Following the ceremony both senior and junior cadets of the Navy, Army and Air Force will commence a Summer term of practical training with their respective services.

In keeping with graduation ceremonies of past years a colorful program is being arranged for the 1949 finishing exercises. With the Royal Canadian Navy Band from H.M.C.S. Naden in attendance, the cadets will be inspected by Air Vice-Marshal H. L. Campbell, C.B.E., R.C.A.F., air officer commanding Northwest Air Command, who will also address the parade and present the academic and athletic wards and prizes. A display in physical training exercises and gymnastics will follow this event.

Among the senior service officers attending will be Major-General M. H. S. Penhale, C.B.E., general officer commanding, Western Command; Rear Admiral H. G. De Wolf, C.B.E., D.S.O., D.S.C., flag officer Pacific Coast; Commodore W. B. Creery, C.B.E., R.C.N., and Captain H. S. Rayner, D.S.C. and Bar, Ad. C., R.C.N., the commandant of the Canadian Service College, Royal Roads.

For the 23 navy and 33 air force cadets of the senior term, Friday afternoon's finishing exercises will mark completion of their academic courses at Royal Roads. The successful students will complete the Summer training period with the R.C.N. and R.C.A.F. Then, after the holiday break, they will continue service with the navy or air force or return to civilian life as members of the reserve forces.

The junior term, which for the first time incorporates cadets of all three services, will observe the mid-point of their two-year training at Royal Roads. The 33 navy, 23 army and 39 air force cadets composing the junior term will also undertake service training during the Summer term, returning to the college in September as senior cadets.

Plan Eight Alaska Trips

Ss. Prince George, of Canadian National Steamships, will make eight regular ten-day voyages this Summer between Vancouver and Skagway, Alaska. Sailings will be June 17 and 28, July 8, 19 and 29, August 9, 19 and 30.

This announcement was made yesterday by Allister Fraser, traffic vice-president of the C.N.R. in Montreal, now on a Pacific Coast inspection tour. He foresees an exceptionally busy season for the C.N.S. ships Prince George and Prince Rupert.

Prince George, built at Yarrows Ltd., entered the Alaska service last Summer. She accommodates 260 first-class passengers, and advance reservations indicate all sailings of this Summer will be heavily booked.

Ports of call on the Vancouver to Skagway trip include Ocean Falls, Prince Rupert, Ketchikan, Wrangell and Juneau.

DIVERSE BOOKINGS

Mr. Fraser reports that bookings for the Alaska sailings have been received from all parts of Canada and the United States . . . "even from New Zealand and Hawaii."

The Prince George has also been chartered for two special cruises, both already fully booked. They will be held prior to the ship's entrance into the regular cruise schedule.

On May 21 the ship will leave Vancouver for Skagway on a ten-day voyage arranged for The Portland Journal, a daily newspaper of Portland, Ore. Southbound on May 30 the ship will call here for a day-long sightseeing tour by the Portlanders.

SECOND CHARTER

The second charter trip, to be held between June 8 and 17, has been arranged for the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce which made a similar goodwill trip to Alaska in the Prince George immediately following her completion at Yarrows Ltd. last June.

The Canadian National vice-president said the Prince Rupert, which carries 200 first-class passengers, will continue in regular coastal service between Vancouver, Westview, Ocean Falls, Prince Rupert and Ketchikan, Alaska, during the Summer, but much of the space in June, July and August is reserved for tourists. Twenty-two special tour parties, organized by travel companies in Los Angeles, Birmingham, Alabama, and Toronto will include the five-day cruise to Ketchikan on the Prince Rupert this Summer in their itineraries.

SCHOONER FREED

The 80-foot U.S. schooner Attu, which was removed from rocks at the southern entrance to Active Pass in the Gulf of Georgia at 3:45 yesterday morning, was towed to Seattle for repairs yesterday by the tug Island Ranger of Island Tug & Barge Ltd.

The American craft, serving as a fish packer, grounded early Sunday morning. Island Ranger, sent to the scene within a short time after the mishap, awaited a high tide before attempting to remove the stranded vessel.

The R.C.A.F. crashboat Malaclie which proceeded to the scene from Patricia Bay, returned to her home base when it was learned no one in the American schooner was injured.

After being freed from the rocks, the Attu was towed to Sidney where clearance matters were attended to, and later she was under tow on her way to Seattle. At Sidney the Attu took on pumps to handle water coming in through holes made as a result of the grounding.

FLYING COURSES

Special refresher flying courses . . . for the Royal Canadian Navy (Reserve) for flying duties in first line operational aircraft will begin at the Operational Flying Training School at H.M.C.S. Shearwater, Dartmouth, N.S., early in May, it has been announced by Naval Headquarters.

Pilots and observers of the active and retired lists of the R.C.N. (R) will be eligible for the special air training.

Two-week and four-week courses will be available. Ten days of the two-week course will be spent in Harvard aircraft, and the balance in dual-controlled Firefly trainers. The flying curriculum will include day and instrument flying, and night flying for those pilots who enroll for the month-long course. Observers will join naval Firefly squadrons for flying training.

During the courses, which will continue through the Summer until October 1, air officers will also receive ground training and lectures in various phases of operational procedure.

STARTS SERVICE

The Black Ball Ferry Line's vessel Nisqually commenced service between Sidney and Anacortes yesterday.

George Paulin, local agent for the ferry line, said it had originally been planned to have the ferry Quinault on the run. The vessels are sister ships.

The Nisqually can carry upwards of 80 automobiles and 1,000 passengers.

Schedule of the ferry service is as follows: Leave Anacortes at 8:30 a.m., arrive at Sidney at 12:15 p.m. She leaves Sidney at 12:40 p.m., arriving at Anacortes at 4:40 p.m. This daily schedule, Mr. Paulin reports, will be continued until June 15, and will include Sundays. Naden, the anadian Services College, and H.M.C.S. ships Ontario, Athabaskan and Antigonish when they return to this port on Thursday to complete a Spring training cruise.

LAMP LURES

The use of electric lamp lures for trapping fish has been used in Japan, particularly in connection with the operation of large set nets, reports the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

The work is still in the experimental stages, although operations to date indicate some improvement in catches when lights are used on dark nights. No particular differences have been noted in the kinds of fish that are caught by the net on which lights are used as compared with nets not equipped with lights.

The originator of the method expects the light lures will be especially effective during runs of squid, as it has been definitely determined they are attracted to light. This is indicated from present methods of light fishing for squid with hand jigs.

Details of the use of lights in catching fish are: The main cable is rubber insulated and of 34-millimeter wire gauge; the branch lines to the lamps are also rubber insulated and of 12-millimeter gauge. The lamps are 150-watt, 100 volts, and the electricity is taken off a power line from the shore.

FISHBOAT AGROUND

The 30-foot United States fishboat Cammena is reported hard aground after hitting a reef in waters north of Prince Rupert yesterday.

A U.S. Coast Guard report said six men are aboard with the U.S. fishpacker the Swede Ann standing by. Neither ship has radio facilities.

A call for assistance has been sent to the Royal Canadian Air Force, which has two rescue boats based at Prince Rupert. The nearest United States Coast Guard assistance is ten hours from the fish boat.

TIDE FREES VESSEL

The fishing vessel Celtic arrived at Ketchikan, Alaska, yesterday, from Herbert Reef, 96 miles to the south, where it ran aground yesterday.

High tides freed the vessel after it had been aground several hours. Nine men were aboard. The Celtic was towed to Ketchikan by the halibut boat J. B. Edwards.

"Under Control" CRANE helps give Fire Protection and Health Protection, too!

THOSE TONS of water shot by the firefighters at a blazing target have come rushing to the scene of action through a vast network of underground pipelines, controlled by Crane valves. Other Crane valves are essential components on the fire engines themselves.

That's only one service Crane is providing for Canadian municipalities. Across Canada in water pumping and filtration plants, for example, special Crane assemblies, giant valves and fittings are at work to assure the uninterrupted flow and purity of the water supply...to provide dependable sewage disposal, too...all essential services to safeguard public health.

Municipal officials from coast to coast, like industrial engineers and home-owners, have learned to depend on Crane's complete selection of quality valves, fittings and piping for every need.

Crane, with its six Canadian factories, furnishes tens of thousands of items required for plumbing, heating and piping systems.

Eighteen Crane Branches and leading plumbing and heating firms maintain showrooms which permit you, your architect or your plumbing and heating contractor to make convenient selection for all your domestic plumbing and heating requirements.

Island Doukhobors To Parade May 24

NANAIMO, April 25. — Michael Verigin of Brilliant, and his wife, Joseph Podovinikoff, and his wife, invaded the Jubilee Celebration committee on Monday. They requested permission for the Doukhobors to take part in the big Empire Day parade here on May 24. They said action was inspired as a tribute to Queen Victoria, who gave them the right to enter Canada 50 years ago.

Men at the settlement were growing beards to go with costumes worn by the first settlers, and would form one entry. They intended to enter junior choirs of children up to 13 years, and other children's groups, attractively attired.

They explained banners they wished to carry, to celebration committee officials and police. Some were approved by Alan Burdock, manager of the Jubilee celebration, and Dawson Gordon, general chairman of the parade committee.

Mayor Jordan Head of Board

Mayor L. K. Jordan, Port Alberni, has been named chairman of a conciliation board in a dispute between five Alberni and Port Alberni hotels and the Hotel, Restaurant and Beverage Employees' Union, Local 697, A.F.L., the Labor Relations Board announced yesterday.

Other members of the board are Nat Bevis, employers' nominee, and T. Gooderham, Victoria, union representative.

The union is asking for a 40-hour week, a wage increase of 35 cents an hour, annual vacations with pay, payment for nine statutory holidays, a sick pay plan, and seniority provisions.

Those affected are 44 employees of the Arlington Hotel, the Beaufort Hotel, King Edward Hotel, Kingsway Hotel and the Somass Hotel.

Reports Game In Good Shape

LADYSMITH, April 25.—Reports to the Ladysmith Fish and Game Association presented a more heartening picture in regard to the condition of wild life in the hills.

Jack McAdam told of seeing 20 deer on the West side of Hall Mountain, behind Ladysmith, in good condition.

Though snow last Winter was exceptionally deep, cutting off the game food supply to the point of starvation, the snow melted rapidly with the beginning of Spring, and food is now plentiful.

A number of dead animals were seen by loggers returning to the woods when roads were passable, but survivors are reported to be in good shape. About 200 grouse were also seen at Hall Mountain.

SHAWNIGAN LAKE, April 25.—Harold Gaunt shot a 90-pound timber wolf early Sunday night on his farm "Forest Glen," a mile from the Shawnigah-Mill Bay Road, according to Constable Robert Ross, Provincial Police. Mr. Gaunt said it was the first wolf he had seen in the district for six years.

Legion Passes Joint Request

PORT ALBERNI, April 25.—A resolution from both branches of the Canadian Legion in Alberni District, asking the Department of Veterans' Affairs officer be disassociated with Unemployment Insurance Commission work, will go forward to J. L. Gibson, M.P., the D.V.A., and the Department of Labor.

The decision was taken at a joint meeting of the Legion branches and their auxiliaries at Branch No. 55 Hall when Branch No. 169, Alberni, was represented, and officials of the D.V.A. and V.L.A. were present.

NEEDS MORE TIME

The resolution states that as there is a good deal of welfare work, there is urgent need that the Veterans' Affairs officer devote all his time to efforts for veterans.

The resolution arose from a discussion period in which it was suggested that the D.V.A. should be responsible for special welfare, especially toward recipients of war veterans allowances.

It was further requested by the meeting that with regard to land to be made available in the Okanagan and Keremeos fruit belt information be made available as soon as possible through the veterans officer.

Impede Arbitration In Alberni District

PORT ALBERNI, April 25. — An injunction served by the School Board of Alberni, District No. 70, has resulted in the second adjournment of arbitration proceedings which were arranged to settle the controversy between the School Board and the councils of Port Alberni and Alberni on the estimates for 1949.

When the arbitration board convened at 2 p.m. Monday, Gordon M. Campbell, city solicitor for Port Alberni, announced that an injunction had been placed against the cities to impress the school board's objection to Ald. George Folkard serving on the board of arbitration.

The injunction will be heard by a Vancouver court, and Mr. Campbell said that some time might elapse before the hearing.

ADJOURNS SESSION

Magistrate T. M. Patterson, chairman of the arbitration board, adjourned the session, and said that the board would convene again next Monday afternoon in the Port Alberni City Hall.

Ald. George Folkard was chosen by the councils of the twin cities as their representative on the arbitration board. At the first meeting last Friday, H. C. K. Housser, legal representative of the school board, asked that the board's objection to Ald. Folkard serving on the board be put on record. The school board contended that as a clear point of common law any interested party shall not serve on a board of arbitration.

A. C. MacPie is the school board appointee to the arbitration board.

Spend Hour in Lake

Four young Victorians, thankful they are still alive to relate their experience, are going to show more care the next time they are in a rowboat.

It is far better to have wet feet than to become completely submerged in cold water and spend nearly an hour kicking and splashing an overturned boat to a distant shore, according to James McDougall, Norman Kirkpatrick, Miss Mardelle Behnsen and Miss Hilda Colbourne.

The four were rowing around in the centre of Shawnigan Lake. There had been a certain amount of water in the boat when they left shore, and the situation became worse when it suddenly started to rain heavily. To make matters worse, the boat had a small leak.

In trying to lift feet out of water in the bottom of the boat, one of the quartette lost his balance and four in the water.

With the two young men on the sides of the upturned craft and the young women pushing from the stern, nearly an hour was spent getting to the shore.

Oars, Miss Colburne's shoes, and Kirkpatrick's wallet which contained $20 were lost.
